I spent 2018 hanging paintings in my window, eventually people started stopping to look at them. I wanted to share my work with the people in the Senior living facility next door. Eventually I made a series of paintings of the windows, which included 1:1 scale reproductions of the work I made that year, arranged in the frame in the same corresponding positions.

Various small badges and stickers from 2019.

Original painting and remix poster, created with a VuPoint Handheld Magic Wand Portable Scanner. The Vupoint Handheld scanner is a device for scanning large text documents, it picks up images at a width equivalent to an A4 page, but in any length. I've found it to be a wonderful tool for capturing images.
